4. POLICY: The duties of K&E positions require the Soldier's immediate availability on the installation due to military necessity. Therefore, they must reside in on-post housing. Approved K&E personnel will receive priority consideration for on-post housing assignments in accordance with the Fort Jackson RCI Community Development Management Plan. The designation of K&E positions is kept to an absolute minimum to ensure maximum housing equity for all Soldiers.

a. Drill sergeants should reside in new housing if available at the time of arrival. However, they will not displace personnel on the waiting list who have received a firm commitment for housing assignment.

b. At the Garrison Commander's discretion and in coordination with the on-post family housing partner, family housing units may be held vacant for a period not to exceed 30 days pending the arrival of designated K&E personnel. This is to ensure the minimum time between assumption of K&E duties and housing occupancy is achieved.
